

These portraits are of Trevor who is a metal worker. He has worked in this workshop located on the site of a former blacksmiths for 42 years; since he was 14 years old.

He worked for and alongside his late father, who continued working up until his passing at the age of 94.

